

Cielo, Luna, Mar (Sky, Moon, Sea)

A game from Chile

This game can be played by 3 or more players. It requires at least three steps wide enough for all the players to stand beside each other. The bottom step is the “mar” (sea), the middle step is the “luna” (moon), and the third step is the “cielo” (sky). One player is the caller, and the others line up on the third step, the “sky.”

The caller says “cielo,” “mar,” or “luna” in whatever order he/she wishes. As soon as a step’s name is called, the players must jump to that step. Anyone who jumps to the wrong step is out. The last player still playing is the new caller, and the game begins again.
